

BuildPro+

The all-in-one job tool that gives contractors their nights back.

The Problem Every Contractor Knows

You already worked a full day. Your back hurts, your hands are raw, and you got home late.

Now the real work starts.

You sit down at the kitchen table with a notepad and your phone, and you start writing quotes. You're trying to remember what a sheet of drywall costs this week. You're doing math on a napkin. You're typing that same "thanks for the chance to bid" message you've sent a hundred times. You're trying to figure out who paid and who didn't. You're digging through your phone for that one before-picture.

The kids go to bed without you. Your wife gives you that look. The weekend disappears into paperwork.

The job you love is taking the life you're working for.

That's the problem BuildPro+ fixes.

What BuildPro+ Does

BuildPro+ takes all the office work — the part that eats your nights and weekends — and does it for you in seconds, right from your phone, while you're still standing on the job.

You do the work you're good at. The app does the rest.

Here's the difference, side by side:

The Job	By Hand	With BuildPro+
Build a material list	45–90 minutes at the kitchen	30 seconds — take a photo,

The Job	By Hand	With BuildPro+
and quote	table	talk it through
Price the materials for your area	Guessing, or driving to the store	Done for you — priced for your ZIP code
Send the quote to the customer	Retype it, find their email, hope they answer	One tap — text it, they sign on their phone
Know when they say yes	Call and bug them	You get a text alert the second they sign
Take a deposit	Awkward talk, drive to get a check	They pay by card right in the quote
Track the job	Sticky notes, your memory, a whiteboard	Done for you — it moves itself along
Handle a change	Argue about it later, lose money	30 seconds — make it, send it, get it signed
Send the invoice	Another late night, another template	One tap — looks pro, pay by card
Get paid	Wait, wonder, follow up	The card payment hits your account
Send a thank-you	Never get around to it	Written for you with job photos, sent in a tap

Here's the math: what used to take you 2–3 hours a night now takes a few minutes during the job. That's 10–15 hours a week — back in your pocket.

That's dinner with your family. That's your kid's game. That's a Saturday off. That's the whole point.

Why It Was Built

BuildPro+ wasn't built by some tech company guessing at what contractors need. It was built on one simple idea:

A contractor's time is worth more on the job and at home than stuck doing paperwork.

Every part of it was made to take away a job that steals your time at home — not to add more steps, but to get rid of the busywork for good. If a feature didn't give you time back, it didn't make the cut.

What you get is a tool that works the way you already work: from your phone, on the job, in plain words — no training, no manual, no IT guy.

Everything It Does — One by One

⚡ Quick Quote — A full quote in 30 seconds

Take a photo of the job and talk through it like you're telling a helper what to do. BuildPro+ listens, looks, and builds a full quote with everything spelled out:

- A full material list — every item the job needs, with amounts and prices
- Priced for your area — it uses the job's ZIP code to figure realistic local Home Depot / Lowe's prices (prices are different all over the country — your quote matches yours)
- Labor hours and rates worked out for you
- A clean, written scope of work the customer can actually understand
- Smart amounts — it charges for what the job uses, not padded numbers that lose you the bid
- You can change anything — every line, price, and amount is yours to fix with one tap before it goes out

Want to build it by hand instead? There's a manual builder with a materials list, too. Your call, every time.

Customer Sign-Off — They say yes right from their phone

Send the quote by text or a link. The customer opens it on their phone, sees a clean, professional page with your logo and business info, and signs it right there — typing their name to accept or turn it down.

- The signature means they agree to your price and terms
- If they say no, they can tell you why — so you know whether to change it and send it back
- The second they decide, you get an alert — no more chasing

Deposits & Payment — Get paid before you even start

Choose to ask for a deposit (10–50%, or none) right in the Quick Quote. When the customer says yes:

- They can pay the deposit by card right away — right inside the quote
- Or pay the whole job up front if they'd rather
- Or pay cash whenever works for them
- A deposit invoice gets made for you, with the work order and terms spelled out
- Payments run through Stripe — card numbers never touch the app

Projects — The job runs itself

Once a customer says yes, the job becomes a project that moves itself along on its own: Lead → In Progress → Done → Closed. No more sticky notes or whiteboards. Each project keeps everything in one place:

- The quote and any changes
- Every photo from the job
- The invoice and whether it's paid
- The customer's info and history

You just tap "Mark Job Done" when the work's finished — the app takes care of the rest.

Change Orders — Never eat a cost again

Customer wants to add tile in the middle of the job? Just say what changed in plain words and BuildPro+ writes up a professional change order with the price spelled out — using the same smart pricing as Quick Quote. Send it, get it signed, and it updates the contract total for you. No more "I thought that was included." No more losing money when the job grows.

Invoices — Professional, branded, paid by card

When the job's done, make a final invoice in one tap:

- Your logo and business info on every invoice
- A written note and payment terms — change them however you want
- Adds up the quote plus any approved changes for you
- Takes off any deposit they already paid — they only owe what's left
- The customer pays by card or cash from a link you text them
- The money hits your account, and the project closes itself

Thank-You Letters — Win the next job while you sleep

Here's the thing most contractors never have time for: the follow-up that turns a customer into a repeat customer and a referral machine.

- BuildPro+ writes a warm, professional thank-you letter for you — with a personal touch and even a little humor
- It pulls every photo from the job (from the first quote pic to the finish) and lets you pick which ones to show off
- It adds a promise — "if anything bugs you, just call"
- Sent in a tap, with a nice photo slideshow the customer gets to keep

People remember the contractor who said thank you. This does it for you, every time.

Job Photos — Take them once, used everywhere

Every photo you take follows the whole job on its own — from the quote, through the work, to the thank-you letter. Snap photos right from the home screen, put them with a job, and they're saved and sorted. No more digging through your phone. Each customer gets a photo log you can share, too.

Customers — Everyone in one place

Names, contact info, job history, and a photo log you can share for every customer. Find anybody in seconds.

Your Business at a Glance

The home screen shows you the score the second you open it:

- Money paid this month
- Jobs won vs. lost, and your win rate
- Average job size
- A "needs attention" list — overdue invoices and quotes the customer hasn't answered, so nothing slips by

Find Anything Fast

Search across customers, projects, and quotes in a second. Copy an old quote ("same as the last bathroom") to save even more time on repeat work.

What Makes BuildPro+ Different

- Made for the phone, for the job — not some desktop program you'll never open.
 - Nothing to learn — if you can take a photo and talk, you can use it.
 - It takes away work, it doesn't add it — every part gives you time back.
 - It makes you look professional — quotes, invoices, and thank-yous that win trust and referrals.
 - It gets you paid faster — card payments, deposits up front, follow-up done for you.
-

The Bottom Line

BuildPro+ does the office work of a full-time helper — for less than what one hour of your work costs in a month.

But the real value isn't about dollars. It's about the nights you get back. The weekends. The dinners you don't miss. The game you get to coach. The life you're actually working for.

You became a contractor to build things and take care of the people you love — not to spend your nights buried in paperwork.

BuildPro+ gives you back the time to do exactly that.

Try it free.

5 free quotes, no card needed. See for yourself how much time you've been giving away.

BuildPro+ — Less paperwork. More life.